Make it yours! Tips for setting up your new home

Making the move to a senior living community is a big change. It's important that you bring treasured belongings into your new living space to make it feel like home, including favorite pieces of furniture and cherished personal items. Knowing how much space you'll have available will allow you to make smarter decisions about what belongings will fit.

Before moving day, ask your community executive to provide you with a floor plan of your apartment. With this in hand, you'll find it much easier to begin the packing process.

What to pack? In general, these are the items you should plan on bringing with you:

Home Furnishings

It's important to make the environment as "homelike" as possible while avoiding overpacking. We recommend focusing on bringing your favorite belongings. Your new living space may be smaller than your current home, so make sure to identify which items are the most important.

Setting up your new home

Create a familiar setting in your new home by placing items in the room where you are used to seeing them. For example, set up the nightstand with the same clock and framed photos that were in your home. Bring a favorite recliner or beloved quilt and display favorite knick-knacks around the room. Remember, our staff is also available to help you settle in, so don't hesitate to reach out if there is anything we can do to make your transition easier. Before you know it, our community will feel like home!
